

The image shows an outdoor dining area at a restaurant. In the foreground, there are several dark wooden tables and wicker chairs with orange cushions. A large, leafy green plant is on the left. In the middle ground, a group of people are sitting on a long, light blue cushioned sofa. Two large black fans are visible. The background shows a harbor with many white sailboats and a bridge. Buildings are visible in the distance.

Keppel Bay

Dining by the Keppel Bay

Crown jewel of Singapore's southern shores

Dine with the "crown" view

Enjoy dining with the most expensive view in Singapore- Keppel Bay, where you can indulge in a culinary experience like no other. Perched on the waterfront, the restaurants at Keppel Bay offer breathtaking panoramic views of the marina and city skyline.

The image is a detailed architectural floor plan of a restaurant. A red rectangular box highlights a specific seating area, with the text "20 guests" written inside it. The plan includes various rooms and features: a playground by a contractor, a covered public passageway, a bar with a bar counter and bar stools, a kitchen with an existing kitchen area, a staircase, and a service station. Dimensions are provided for many of the spaces and furniture pieces. The layout shows a mix of indoor and outdoor seating areas, with the highlighted area being a long, narrow table setup.
